RESIDENTIAL BASKETBALL COURT

New Hampshire

This private New Hampshire home now features a dynamic basketball and training space, designed and installed by Ardent Fitness for seamless athletic performance. Our team designed the space, and then delivered and installed both commercial-grade fitness equipment and high-end basketball infrastructure to support full-body workouts and active play.

The highlight of the space is the Spalding 2500 Series Arena-Style Portable Basketball System, a pro-level system that's built for residential use, offering the same performance and stability trusted by the pros. Our team installed custom wall padding for player protection and a polished finish.

We handled the transportation, assembly, testing, wall pad installation, and flooring layout of the heavy equipment, creating a safe and functional home gym that supports training and play year-round.
